THE EVENING DISPATCH.

PROVO CITY, JUNE 21, 1894

HENRY HARRISON of the Eureka sal on set a free lunch for his customers today.

The crowd at the opening of the lake resort last night was not large. The weather was too cool for an evening's outing.

Some of the pleasure seekers on the moonlight excursion to Geneva last evening were compelled to walk home. They failed to get up to the track from the resort in time after hearing the whistle.

Ed. L. Jones and R. E. Knowlden, insurance agents, returned last evening from a profitable business trip into Midway, Heber and the other towns of the Provo Valley. When they returned they were loaded down with fish.

J. G. LUTON of Le Roy, N. Y., a prominent grocer and G. A. R. man says: "I have been troubled with indigestion and biliousness for years. Tried Parks' Tea and it has cured me. I recommend it to everybody." Sold by Smoot Drug company.

ICE CREAM 20 cents a quart at Elite bakery, opposite postoffice.

Join the crowd and be with the "noble tribe" at Calder's park June 22, 23 and 24. Half rates via the R. G. W.

FOR a good meal for very little money go to the Provo City Bakery and Chop House, No. 116 West Center street.

Sells & Rentfrow's Circus.

Sells & Rentfrow's circus came to town early this morning over the U. P. railway but almost as early were hundreds of the rural gentry, who proposed to make this a holiday, so that when the parade navigated the streets of the town sidewalks were packed and the blue sash of the maiden clapped in the saddle breeze that tossed the gray hair of aged men and women. It was indeed a pleasure to see the beaming features and hear the happy voices of the well dressed children. And the mothers and fathers forgot the hard times and all the hard work. It was a perfect circus day, save for a little dust, and dust is not in it with the tight, spangles, music and lemonade of a circus.

The afternoon performance opened at 2 o'clock to good business. The ring features of the show are certainly novel and attractive. Tonight there should be another crowded tent.

This circus performance is followed by the inevitable concert, which in this instance, is enjoyable.

The menagerie is not the largest seen here, but it is good and the animals are well kept. It contains a choice collection and some fine specimens of rare beasts. Mr. Rentfrow, and his associate, William Sells, the renowned rider and showman, are both gentlemen of pleasing personality and honorable business methods.

There are 172 people with the circus. It is the only large show coming west this season and the reason it is showing to so many little towns in Utah just now is that the big washouts on eastern railroads caused it to miss many of its dates, and it is filling in its time this way expecting only to make expenses. It shows at Salina tomorrow and Mt. Pleasant on Saturday. On the 23rd it reaches Ogden and will go east from there.

A Pass From Almost a Stranger.

The man about town who is always nodding to people and making himself agreeable even to comparative strangers had a little experience the other day which goes to prove that politeness and civility sometimes pay in a financial as well as a social sense. He was standing in the railroad station in Baltimore, waiting for the train to New York, when he noticed a man who kept "nudging" at him. Every time he looked in the direction of the stranger he noticed that his eyes were turned toward him. Strolling over that way, he bowed to the stranger.

"I beg your pardon," he said, "but I thought you recognized me."

"I beg yours," said the stranger. "I thought I recognized you, but I am not sure now."

"My name," said the man about town, "is L—."

"Oh, then, I was right!" said the other. "My name is H—. We met only once, about 15 years ago. Are you going through to New York?" added H—.

"Right through on this train," answered the man about town. "I hope you are too."

"Yes," said the other; "I am sorry to see that you bought your ticket. I have a pass for myself and one."

"Oh, I haven't bought my ticket," answered L—, with a chuckle, "and I am just your man."

So his nodding was his passport—New York Tribune.

The Ladies.

The pleasant effect and perfect safety with which ladies may use the California liquid laxative, syrup of Figs under all conditions, makes it their favorite remedy. To get the true and genuine article, look for the name of the California Fig Syrup Co., printed near the bottom of the package.

ESTRAY NOTICE—I have in my possession the following described animals impounded as estrays or trespassers.

Symptoms of Cancer Removed—Rheumatism Cured

A Chicago Clergyman's Faith in Hood's Sarsaparilla.

"C. I. Hood & Co., Lowell, Mass.:

"Dear Sirs: I am profoundly impressed with the medical virtues of Hood's Sarsaparilla. I was threatened with cancer, and disagreeable eruptions on my back and other places. The cancer was appearing on my lip. Providentially I obtained a bottle of Hood's Sarsaparilla, and by the time it was gone, the bad symptoms had nearly disappeared. I have used four bottles, and I believe it has Saved Me From Premature Death. I am now almost 73 years of age and I work like a tiger. And I know that Hood's Sarsaparilla has had much to do with my vigor and strength. I recommended it to my wife, who had suffered so much with rheumatic troubles,
